L27 2007z OCLC Number: (OCoLC)318793772 Subject: People with disabilities -- Legal status, laws, etc. -- United States. Excerpt: . . . 11 under the ADA - the question of whether the employers action was improperly re-lated to the individuals disability. That inquiry is circumvented - it ends before it begins - with the narrow construction of disability, and a finding that individuals who are clearly disabled, who are entitled to the protections of the ADA, and whom the ADA was intended to protect - are not sufficiently disabled to warrant its protec-tions. And there are many more stories: Stephen Orr was fired from his job as a pharmacist after his employer refused to allow him to take a lunch break so that he could regulate his blood sugar and control his diabetes by eating. But because Stephen managed his diabetes through regimented food intake and medication, the court ruled that he was not substantially limited in any major life activity, and 6 therefore was not protected from discrimination under the ADA....
